Data Scientist/Engineer

About me

A detail-oriented Data Scientist at Dattico with a solid mathematical background and technical skills, I solve complex data challenges using a variety of tools, including cloud services (AWS and Azure). My journey began at Bruxelles Formation, where I engaged deeply in AI/ML projects. I am on my final course to complete the MITx MicroMasters in Statistics and Data Science.

Proficient in Python and R for comprehensive data analysis and visualization, I am highly skilled in Machine Learning and Deep Learning, with expertise in Numpy, Pandas, Sklearn, and TensorFlow. I have also developed applications in JavaScript and Python and have a working knowledge of R and SQL.
